ABACUS - Checker is a reliable tool that enables you, as a hotel administrator, to manage various aspects of your business. The software covers your company's requirements, from personnel, prices or charging fees, to making reservations and accommodating guests. Multi-functional front and back-end software ABACUS - Checker features two main windows, the one that grants you access to functions related to accommodating guests and another that allows you to manage administrative aspects. The front end allows you to check the list of the guests currently staying at your hotel, expected guests or available rooms. Apart from the guest's contact details, you need to specify how many persons wish to stay and how many rooms they wish to reserve. The check-in and check-out procedures are easily managed, based on the guests already featuring in the database. You may also print reports about the housekeeping status. Back-office management and interface inconsistency The secondary menu offers you access to the administrative side of the business. The software can generate detailed reports, fare tables, prospective management sheets. Moreover, you can monitor the products' inventory, room prices, seasonal prices, opening and closing, payment methods, minibar restocking and employees' schedule. While ABACUS - Checker allows you quick access to all its functions, its interface is difficult to manage or to resize. The tool tips are disabled, which makes the software's usage rather counter intuitive, especially for those who are not used to it. Moreover, the data you enter is not always saved, meaning you need to fill the fields in again each time. Nice hotel client software for hotel management. Written by Lucas V. SANTOS Date published: 22/09/2011 5/5 Very easy software, well designed and easy to use. Unfortunately the program lacks a few features. For example, it doesn't allow to control messages sent to clients. You can send text messages or reminders and the client can write back to the programmer. But you cannot block phone calls or texts (with a specific time and length). Also, it does not allow the creation of reports by selected groups of guests. So, for example, you can manage booking requests, but you can't know what is the percentage of occupied rooms

Hotel Booking Agents A hotel booking agent typically is an external 3rd party that either acts as a middleman between the hotel and the shopper or exists solely as a technology solution provider that acts as an intermediary for hotel bookings. We are all aware that the Internet is an incredible resource for information retrieval, shopping, online banking and credit card purchases. The technology behind the hotel industry is not progressing as fast as other industries and there are very few technologies that directly support hotel bookings over the Internet. Hotel industry professionals are working on a solution to solve the hotel booking problem.

Online Hotel Bookings The latest paradigm of online hotel bookings is to allow the guest to choose one or more hotels. OTA's or Online Travel Agencies have been doing this for years but the size of their databases have not been very large. Also, it was harder to find availability as they only had access to limited amounts of data from a few carriers. Online travel agencies have greatly expanded in the last three years and it is now possible to find fairly good availability as the hotel databases are now huge. The scenario of online hotel bookings has now changed. The hotel booker now goes to a website that allows the guest to select from many different hotels and make a reservation for their visit. The hotel guests then carry their own smartphone and use it to search for hotels and book a reservation.
