The former Clemson defensive end and Michigan State quarterback is back in the University of Michigan-Notre Dame game at Ford Field on Friday night. Spence will get his first game action since breaking his leg on Nov. 6, when he was hurt in practice. He had surgery on Dec. 8. "We're very pleased to get Noah back on the field and excited for him," coach Jim Harbaugh said at the start of Harbaugh's "Motivate Time" conference call with reporters on Wednesday. "He's been doing good. He's doing good. He's taking care of his body and doing all the things he needs to do to get ready to play." Spence is competing to replace Michael ogletree and Jack Miller, who left for the NFL. The Lions drafted him in the sixth round on May 2. He is listed as the starting right end. "It's going to be an important game, not only for me, but also for the team," Spence said on Tuesday. "We're 1-11. So we just need to put all the good stuff together and play the best game of the season." Spence is from Revere, Massachusetts. He had 30 tackles and 4.5 sacks in 15 games at Clemson last season. The Tigers won the Atlantic Coast Conference with a record of 11-2 and went to the national championship game. "I know him," Spence said. "I've been in film study with him. I've seen him. I've known him since he was younger. "I've seen him operate as a defensive end. I know he can do a great job of playing both sides of the ball.... I think I could make a good transition (to) outside linebacker or edge guy in our system." Spence said he has played both defensive end and tackle in high school. "I'm ready to do anything," he said. Spence is Michigan's fifth defensive end to start at Ford Field. But Harbaugh said there
