Diablo 2. GTA 4 : Episodes From gain a better understanding of the development of the embryonic heart, gene expression will be studied for two genes specifically expressed in the heart: nkx2.5 and alpha-actinin. This study is not only important for our understanding of the normal heart development, but it may also provide important insights into the aetiology of congenital heart disease. The role of nkx2.5 in the normal development of the heart and cardiovascular system will be examined by 1) differentiating embryonic stem cells which overexpress nkx2.5 via retroviral gene transfer into mice which lack nkx2.5, 2) differentiating embryonic stem cells which are unable to express nkx2.5 because of a missense mutation in the nkx2.5 gene, and 3) observing the effects on cardiac development and patterning of over-expressing two independent populations of cells with a disrupted nkx2.5 gene in mouse. While alpha-actinin is highly expressed in the heart, its role in the developing heart is not known. To understand the role of alpha-actinin in the developing heart, gene expression and embryonic expression patterns will be examined in mice in which the gene for alpha-actinin has been disrupted. These studies will aid in elucidating the molecular mechanisms controlling normal heart development, and may lead to a better understanding of the mechanisms involved in a number of congenital heart defects.

Q: (Python) Write to all files in a folder except ones that have a certain prefix I want to write some text to all.py files in a directory except those that have a certain prefix. My code so far reads the files in the directory and writes them to a file, but it does it to all files and I only want to write it to one file. I also don't know how to match the prefix. Any ideas?

EDIT: I'm not talking about every file, but only those with the prefix. I could do if `fname.startswith("prefix")`, but I've tried doing it this way and it still doesn't work.
