Atletico Madrid is a very well known fútbol club and has a football team competing in La Liga. You get to play as some of the very best players in all the 17 teams, but only one (Jesús Navas) can play the role of "The God of Football." In a refreshingly different take on football management games, you need to build your team from the ground up to win trophies. What's not to love about that? And it goes beyond the action, with the story as the main focus and a whole host of unique interactions between you and your players. Note: For FIFA 15 and FIFA 16 users you have to purchase this as a separate DLC.2 days instead of one day (2 Ep). I also can't figure out why it did that... Open for feedback, any comments or general feedback appreciated, thank you for trying it out. Posted by ImmerseMe on Feb 12th 2018 Wow... lots of great feedback so far... thanks Posted by Magic on Jan 22nd 2018 I'm impressed... but I know what I'm doing. Big disappointment. Posted by WorldWide on Oct 1st 2017 I'm really impressed that you've been able to track your data as well as you have. What are the main differences between your setup and the two other App Store apps I use which probably run a similar or more advanced setup? Is it just due to your need for the tracking or can you share the specific setup? Posted by anon on Sep 21st 2017 So easy to use, easy to track. I simply loved it! You are doing a great job.

Summary: Artemis Fowl is a 16-year-old boy from New York City. He is in the process of stealing a magical creature called The Unbelievable. It is a rare creature that is said to be extinct; a mythical, but very real elephant-like creature with the ability of flight. In order to retrieve the creature, Artemis must kidnap Queen Prudencia from the High Kingdom, a place that is guarded by fifty orc warriors, the most dangerous army in the world. The loss of the royal castle, means the destruction of the High Kingdom and the death of the King. Artemis must find a way to protect the citizens as well. Now in the 3rd book of the Artemis Fowl series, Artie and his crew have to find a way to collect the magical compass which can be used to find the Chaos creature within a 5 kilometer radius. Can they find the beast and will the King survive? Summary: Highborn begins in the middle of the morning. Artemis and Mayday woke up in different beds and they are both being protected by silver-clad guards. The interrogation started early and it quickly becomes clear they are being accused of charges that can be charged with torture. All the guards are merciless and Artie tries to keep his cool. Artemis says it's okay, because they all think he's lying about Mayday. He begins to speak again but he is interrupted by another prisoner who insists he is innocent as well. Questions are fired at Artie, who responds in detail. He wants to be executed at dawn. To avoid it, he asks what he has done to be in Hell? The guards have a lengthy discussion and decide they will do time in the punishment areas before they can proceed to the first room. After that, they will kill Artie. They run downstairs and start a countdown as to when they can leave. It ends with the inmates giving Artie a glass. In a futile attempt to pick it up, Artie falls. The guards keep their distance, which is strange as they have seen him on his feet before. The guards grab him and lead him to the execution area. A large squad of High Council guards are waiting for them. For some reason, they are dressed in black instead of their normal green. They line up in front of Artie, just before they seal him in a large coffin. Artemis changes the subject again and asks the guards whether they have read the message that Mayday sent to her mother. The guards are taken
