Multicraft is a nice app that allows users to make their own server in a game, where players must communicate in a chat room. It is a great way to become a community with unlimited friends, and play in a fun way. Multicraft is also a great app to bring the community together, since there are over 60 different plugins that can be downloaded and installed. They will create a fun environment, not possible with the other servers in the market. MultiCraft also has a visual UI that is simple to use and understand, the graphics are neat and easy on the eyes. Along with the whole game is perfectly translated into seven languages, so everyone can enjoy the game. With Multicraft you can also customize your server, for example, you can build a new address, a new chat interface, change the rotation speed, and add new plugins. To all, this is a great app and a great way to have fun. If you are experiencing problems with the game, just visit the Multicraft support forums to find help and guidance. It's easy to share your problems and suggestions here, and your opinion will be valued by the rest of the players. NOTE: This screenshot is from an old build of Multicraft, the uploads are usually formatted cleaner, and aren't as dirty as this screenshot. Also, on the new build, the file has now been assigned to Multicraft PPA which is located in Ubuntu Software Center (if you are running Ubuntu) and you can find the package here. Let's just start from the very beginning. Get your game set up, download yourself a server to play in! While doing that we will set up your MultiCraft client in the best way. Everything should be self explanatory from here, if not, let me know and we can move along.
