Q: Creating a CodeIgniter Custom Menu I have a basic codeigniter menu that is working as expected. However, my client wants us to be able to add a custom icon to the top of each page link. So, when someone clicks on the page link, the icon would be displayed next to the link. Currently the website is built in Wordpress, but it will be ported to a CodeIgniter custom site. Is it possible to edit the codeigniter core template so that it allows for custom icons? A: No, the core templates aren't customizable as far as I'm aware. If you're able to port it to CI, I'd recommend just using CI themes instead. You'd be able to set any elements you want, since you'd have total control over what you're building.
